

Adding a Data Source

Data sources are added at the Responder suite or action suite level and saved in .pva files or .pvn files. You can specify any number of data sources for a Responder suite or Action suite, and you can use any specified data sources throughout a Responder suite's tools or Action suite's tools.

In addition, you can create an aggregate data source in which you can combine the values of other available data sources into a single data source.