

Viewing Event Messages

To review stored event messages:

1. Open the Environment Manager module's Events tab or click a page's Messages link (if available—for example, in an environment diagram in Edit mode).

2. Use the available controls to filter what types of messages you want displayed. For instance, you can focus on the events associated with a particular system, environment, or set of components. Or, you could zero in on events that occurred within a specific time range.

By default, the newest messages will be listed on top. Note that when a specific environment is selected, the page will show only event messages that belong to component instances of that selected environment. If components are shared between environments, only the events associated with the active environment are shown.

Select any row to display the message details in the lower portion of the page.
