

Cutting, Copying, and Pasting Data Sources

To cut, copy, or paste a data source, right-click the desired data source node and select Cut, Copy, or Paste from the shortcut menu. This feature is useful if you already have a data source in which you would like to modify only a few values. You can then just cut or copy the data source, paste it in the same tree branch, then modify the new data source as needed.
